

Purdey

Cover-up operation... Avenger Purdey in the disguise habit

the nun

By John Jones

GONE is the glamorous silk and satin image. GONE are the sexy stiletto heels and chiffon. . . .

It's Purdey as you've never seen her before. For actress Joanna Lumley swaps high fashion for a nun's habit in tonight's episode of Thames TV's "New Avengers."

It's definitely a cover-up operation . . . for those lethal legs and trend-setting hairstyles are hidden as Purdey dons the disguise to solve some mysterious deaths

In "Angels of Death," Steed too changes his gentleman's image . . . for that of a priest.

Happily for Avenger fans, Purdey has not completely kicked the habit. The karate chops and leg work are brought into play when the action warms up.

And in a future episode Purdey takes a lover and reveals the passionate side of her screen image.